

LEADERSHIP U FOR HUMANITY

“ It starts with all of us. When business leaders make this personal, change will happen. ”

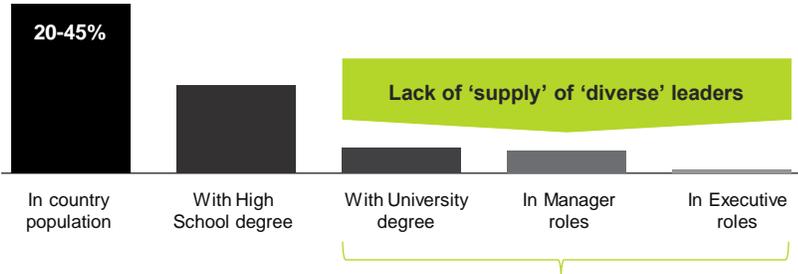

Confronting systemic racism can't be outsourced or delegated. This change must start from the top, with commitment and intentionality. Once leaders make it safe for others to learn, speak and act, the capabilities and ideas to affect change will bubble up from within. But change and action must be driven top-down.

This is my invitation to fellow CEOs, Board members, senior executives and leaders everywhere who have the voice, platform, and power to ignite meaningful change and develop the new generation of diverse leaders.

Join LEADERSHIP U FOR HUMANITY, an open, effective and scalable leadership learning platform to promote more opportunities for Professionals of Color and other underrepresented populations.
